

LEADS Policy Manual

Revised April 2020

Saskatchewan League of Educational Administrators, Directors and Superintendents (LEADS)

LEADS Policy Manual

Introduction

The following policies have been developed to highlight and support the very important governance functions of the Executive Board. In addition to clearly defining the role of the Executive Board, the role of the Executive Director and the delegation of authority from the Executive Board to the Executive Director, it includes the following in its policies:

1. foundational statements which provide guidance and direction for all activities within LEADS as a professional organization;
2. directions for how the Executive Board itself is to function and how individual members of the Executive Board are to conduct themselves; how Executive Board committees and representatives are to function;
3. non-delegable matters such as policymaking; and,
4. specific matters which the Executive Board has chosen not to delegate to the Executive Director.

These Executive Board Policies may be supplemented by an Administrative Procedure as part of the Administrative Procedures Manual. The Administrative Procedures (AP) will be the primary written document by which the Executive Director provides direction. All policies and administrative procedures must be entirely consistent.

The development of two separate and distinct documents (i.e., Policy/Administrative Procedures) is meant to reinforce the distinction between the Executive Board's responsibility to govern and the Executive Director's administrative duties.

5 – Executive Director Evaluation	References: The LEADS Act, 1991, S. 14.1 Updates: November 2019 – Creation of LEADS Policy Manual November 7, 2019 – Reviewed by the Executive Board April 24, 2020 – Approved by the Executive Board

Background

The Saskatchewan League of Educational Administrators, Directors and Superintendents believes that a properly conducted program for evaluation of the Executive Director benefits the Executive Director, enhances the relationship between the Executive Director and the Executive Board, ensures accountability, assists the Executive Board to provide quality professional services and models the importance of systematic assessment throughout the operations of LEADS.

Statement

The Executive Board’s formal evaluation of its Executive Director strengthens the congruence between the LEADS mission, goals and strategic plan; and, the work identified within the role and responsibilities defined in LEADS Policy 4 – Executive Director Position Description.

LEADS Policy 4, Executive Director Position Description, defines the requirement for the Executive Board to conduct a performance evaluation of the LEADS Executive Director.

Objectives

The objectives of the Executive Director’s evaluation process are to:

1. Establish performance expectations.
2. Provide a vehicle with which to measure Executive Director performance against expectations.
3. Give feedback to the Executive Director.
4. Support compensation adjustment decisions.

Procedures

1. Rationale

- (a) To provide objective information regarding the Executive Director’s performance.
- (b) To increase the Executive Board’s awareness of the state of operations in LEADS, and to determine the directions in which it wishes to proceed.
- (c)

- (d) To help the Executive Board to perceive its own performance and organizational behavior more clearly.
- (e) To help the Executive Board and Executive Director agree on what is expected of each other, enabling the Executive Board to function as policymaker and the Executive Director as Chief Executive Officer.
- (f) To provide a basis for commending, rewarding and reinforcing good work.
- (g) To sensitize the Executive Board to the challenges and pressures inherent in the position of the Executive Director.
- (h) To provide dialogue and feedback on progress achieved between successive (eg., annual) evaluations.

2. Characteristics of the Performance Appraisal Process

- (a) It should be co-operatively planned and carried out.
- (b) It should be more diagnostic than judgmental.
- (c) It should provide for clear, constructive and personalized feedback.
- (d) It should be current, reflecting the best of relevant research.
- (e) It should enhance the self-image and self-respect of each individual involved.
- (f) It should provide a forum in which the Executive Director can respond to the evaluation.
- (g) It should be a regularly scheduled event.
- (h) It should promote self-assessment by Executive Board members and the Executive Director alike.
- (i) It should include an opportunity for periodic follow-up between formal evaluation processes.
- (j) It should provide direction for self-improvement for the Executive Director and the Executive Board.
- (k) It should celebrate the growth and accomplishments of the Executive Director.

3. Planning for the Evaluation

- (a) The method and standards by which the Executive Director's performance is to be judged are to be mutually developed and understood by both the Executive Director and the members of the Executive Board.
- (b) A mutually agreeable time and place for the evaluation shall be set by the Executive Board and the Executive Director.
- (c) The Executive Board will agree that this item will be given priority on the agenda for this meeting.

- (d) The Executive Board will agree that all of its members will participate.
- (e) The Executive Board and Executive Director will not limit themselves to those items which appear on the particular form being used, since no form or set of guidelines can encompass the totality of the Executive Director’s responsibilities. The Executive Board and Executive Director may choose to focus on one specific aspect of the Executive Director’s performance in a given year with more comprehensive reviews occurring less frequently.
- (f) All Executive Board members will agree that their individual assessments of the Executive Director will be compiled into a final written, composite evaluation which will be discussed between the Executive Director and the whole Executive Board.
- (g) Each judgment should be supported by as much objective documentation as possible; one Executive Board member’s opinion will not be the sole basis for judgment on an appraisal item.
- (h) There will be an understanding between the parties that, in some cases, a judgment criterion might be deleted from the process because extenuating circumstances might have prevented the Executive Director from performing that function.
- (i) The final evaluation will be signed by both parties – that is the Executive Director and the President.

4. Materials Vital to the Process

(a) Statement of Goals and Priorities

The Executive Board should compile such a statement which takes into account Executive Board policies, its statement of educational philosophy, all applicable laws or regulations, and the desires of the community.

(b) Executive Director’s Position Description

The Executive Board must have clearly stated the roles and responsibilities of the Executive Director in carrying out Executive Board’s goals and priorities. The position description should determine how much actual authority the Executive Director has to complete his/her work. A fair evaluation must be defined by the limits of the job summary.

(c) A Written Evaluation Procedure

The Executive Board and its Executive Director must arrive at an agreeable structure for evaluation including timetables, procedural mechanics and the criteria under which judgment will be made.

5. Follow-up/Review

The final evaluation should be followed up by timely review(s) by the parties to the evaluation.

6. Impact on Compensation

The evaluation follow-up outcomes might be attached to compensation as defined within the contract of the Executive Director.
